The Korean Presbyterian Church located in Newark, Delaware, is a warm and welcoming community that embodies the spirit of inclusivity and love.

Accessibility for All

One of the standout features of this church is its commitment to accessibility. Visitors will be pleased to find a wheelchair-accessible entrance that ensures everyone can enter with ease. This focus on accessibility highlights the church's dedication to making all members of the community feel welcome.

Wheelchair-Accessible Car Park

The church also offers a wheelchair-accessible car park, which allows for convenient access to the building. This thoughtful consideration demonstrates the church's desire to accommodate individuals with mobility challenges, making it a truly inclusive space.

A Family-Like Atmosphere

Many who attend the Korean Presbyterian Church rave about the pastor and his wife, describing them as friendly and approachable. As one visitor noted, "They make you feel like family here." This sense of belonging permeates the church environment, welcoming everyone who walks through the door.

A Clean and Inviting Space

The church itself is described as "such a nice place" that is clean, neat, and open. This creates a comforting atmosphere where congregants can gather to worship and connect with one another.

Small but Full of Love

While the church may be small in size, it is undeniably full of love. Attendees appreciate the intimate setting, which fosters close relationships among members. The welcoming nature and emphasis on community make the Korean Presbyterian Church a unique place to worship. In conclusion, the Korean Presbyterian Church in Newark stands out not only for its physical accessibility but also for the warmth and love that fills its halls. It truly reflects the values of community and inclusivity.
